

CONCRETE MADE SIMPLE: NEMO TILE

posted on 03/22/2018 by By Karina Campos

The Opus collection from Nemo Tile + Stone showcases the raw and varied structure of worn concrete without the cost of installation or the labor of finishing and maintenance. Whether used for hospitality, retail, or even residential interiors, these large-format porcelain tiles add an industrial appeal in a variety of sizes and three colorways. nemotile.com

Located in Newtown Square, Penn., and designed by Jeffrey Beers International, the Firepoint Grill restaurant features the Opus collection in Tar. Installed on the floors of both the main dining area and the outside patio, the design team took advantage of the tile's ability to be used both indoors and out.

PHOTOGRAPH BY MAX TOUHEY

